Ashokan Reservoir Gets Big Supply

More Than 16 Billion Gallons Added in Six Days

Seasonal run-off of melting mountain snow and recent rains which raised area streams to raging crest boosted the water supply in New York's Ashokan Reservoir by more than 16 billions of gallons of water in six days, it was reported today.

Both the Sawkill and Esopus creeks appeared to be at highest crest since the beginning of the earth another, but said floods which began last week as the ice was leaving the Walkill river were today reported subsided in the New Paltz area.

The recent rains, however, added to highway hazards in nearly all areas of the county, as the earth and pavement, damaged by last winter's frost, was softened and disintegrated by the down-pours.

Pavement buckled into small mounds in many sections of main routes and dangerous holes in the roads were deepened. Considerable damage was reported along the upper areas of Route 28, at the Woodstock-West Hurley road, and other secondary routes in the area.

Many roads in the southern part of the county were as badly damaged and the routes along the river were still reported water-logged and muddy today.

The road leading through Springtown to New Paltz was closed to traffic for several days and through travel was impossible over connecting highways in the area.

The water and also melted flood crest at Perrine's Bridge near Rifton and it flooded lowlands at New Paltz including the airport there. Planes at the airport were moved to higher ground until the water subsided, and the field was reported still soggy and muddy today.

$15,393 Reached In Ulster County Red Cross Drive

The sum of $15,393.45 is the total reached to date in the Ulster County Red Cross financial drive, it was reported today at the headquarters of Ulster County Chapter. The quota for Ulster county is $34,000.

The county's quota this year represents a 25 per cent increase over that of a year ago, because of general cost increases and the need of more funds by the Red Cross on a nationwide scale.

Three major activities are listed by the American Red Cross for 1948. They are disaster relief and preparedness, the national blood program and continued service to veterans. All of them, the Red Cross points out, will be necessary for costly operations.

There should be no need to emphasize again and again the service the Red Cross renders in its humane endeavors. Let us all give generously and gratefully in this Red Cross appeal. When dire need arises, the Red Cross is the first helping hand lifted in behalf of the victims.

Bridges Says Group Would Like to Know if, Where U.S. Will Fight

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senators called on the Truman administration today for secret data on the cold war with Communism. Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) told a reporter the Armed Services Committee hopes to find out from Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of Defense Forrestal "if and where we intend to fight."

Both cabinet officers were summoned to a closed door meeting this afternoon. The session was called to consider President Truman's plan for temporary revival of the wartime draft and for immediate enactment of universal military training.

It was to be Marshall's second appearance of the day on Capitol Hill. He was invited to sit in with Senate Foreign Relations Committee members during their final study of a bill to provide $570,000,000 in economic aid to China.

Just back from a series of west coast speeches on the administration's new stop-Russia policy, Marshall faced a busy schedule on top of his congressional engagements. At the State Department, three critical issues have arisen.

They involve: (1) A possible Russian crackdown on the western powers in Berlin, (2) uncertainty over whether violence may flare in Trieste as a result of a surprise proposal to return that strategic port city to Italy and (3) this country's about-face on the earlier decision to partition Palestine.

As for Marshall's and Forrestal's date with the Armed Services Committee, Bridges said he isn't sure that either will be willing to draw any line in Europe beyond which further Communist encroachment might call for American military action. But the Senate added:

"Even if they don't want to tell us, I think we have a right to know in more detail why they need more men in the armed services and what they intend to do with them."

After hearing the two cabinet members, the armed services group may decide whether it wants to go ahead with an inquiry into U.M.T. or shift gears for a look at the draft revival proposal.

The report didn't name any union. The board, which made public its report to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, suggested consideration of requiring one year's residence in New York state before granting assistance "in all but emergency situations."

The city department, the report stated, has wasted funds by failure to establish eligibility for many home relief recipients.

Evidence at its hearings, the board said, disclosed "only comparatively few so-called 'luxury' relief cases."

Grants for food and clothing have not kept up with the increased cost of living, the board reported, although "provision has been made in many grants for unnecessary minor items."

At the time the state inquiry was launched last year, the city administration was being criticized in several quarters for placing a number of relief clients in hotels and for other alleged "luxury" treatment.

The welfare commission has changed hands twice since the department investigation began.

Fiery Cross Burns On Boursville Flats

Woodstock, March 22 —A large cross about seven feet high was set afire and charred on the Boursville Flats Friday night. Some rumors are that the KKK was operating in the vicinity and was responsible for it. Others say that it was the prank of some youngsters.

Those who sponsor the young people of the village doubt that it was a prank of theirs since most of the young people of the town attended the basketball game Friday night.

Joe Forno, proprietor of a pharmacy, said that he didn't believe it was the prank of the young people, because most of them were in his store until midnight that night.

City to Commence Work on Streets April 5, Is Report

Albany, Foxhall Avenues Will be Reconstructed; Catch Basins Part of B.P.W. Plan

Work on the reconstruction of Albany avenue and Foxhall avenue will start at the city line and progress toward the interior of the city. Two courses about four inches deep will be constructed, using the penetration method.

This type of construction is similar to that used on North Front street. The top layer will then be made of "Steamix," a steam dispersion method of paving, similar to that used on Broadway. This combination will make a pavement capable of sustaining the heavy loads which pass over Albany avenue.

Foxhall avenue will be reconstructed between Albany avenue and Broadway, using two courses of material as was used on Elmendorf street, Steuding said. This type of pavement is less expensive than the type to be used on Albany avenue, but will be adequate because of the lighter traffic load on Foxhall avenue, the superintendent said.

On both projects, catch basins will be rebuilt and in some cases relocated. The work will be un-

State Data on New York Welfare Hits Cash Waste

New York, March 22 (AP)—State investigators reported today finding a waste of funds, maladministration and labor union dictation and obstruction attempts in the City Department of Public Welfare.

Strong "Communist elements" among its employees also were found, the investigators said.

Complete reorganization of the department was recommended in the report by the State Board of Social Welfare, which started an investigation last year.

The report did not name any union. The board, which made public its report to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, suggested consideration of requiring one year's residence in New York state before granting assistance "in all but emergency situations."

The city department, the report stated, has wasted funds by failure to establish eligibility for many home relief recipients.

Convention Hall No Place for Weak Hearts as Thrilling Victory Is Clinched

Convention Hall, Saratoga, March 20 — This town hasn't seen anything like it since Jim Dandy scored his fabulous 100-1 upset in the Travers Stake a decade or more ago.

By 11 p. m. the Kingston High School rosters had completely taken over this little hamlet that seldom gets excited about anything until the month of August.

They swarmed over the streets in groups and mobs, singing, cheering, whistling and yelling, shouting to the rooftops that Kingston High School had the best basketball team this side of heaven.

Pity the man or woman with a weak heart in that soul stirring climactic overtime period, the heart pounding last five minutes of the regulation contest.

In nine buses and private cars, the Kingston rosters—nearly 1,000 strong—streamed into town. An hour before the game started you couldn't find a parking space within 10 blocks of this hall.

All the Way to Kingston
The celebrations spread from this little town all the way down to Kingston. Everywhere you went the mobs were screaming the names of Joe Albany and little Ronnie Scheffel, Little Mister Ice Water, who wrote his name in K.H.S. basketball legend here tonight and will add many more chapters before he finally hangs up his uniform.

It was a heart-warming spectacle the way Albany and Scheffel were mobbed by delicious team-mates and fans for several minutes after the final buzzer. They were the big heroes. You never can tell who will be the heroes when the chips are down. Tonight it was Joe Albany, the boy with hands as big as a prize Easter ham and young Scheffel, sharp-

Eaton Says War Possibility Not Remote; Aid Is Voted

Letter Asks Vote For Democracy

Appeal Is Made to Local Italians to Write to Friends, Relatives

An appeal to local persons of Italian descent to write to their friends and relatives in Italy and inform them about the facts of Communism and warn them that aid from this country will stop if the Communists win the election of April 18 was made today by Anthony Alecca of 65 Gill street.

Alecca, who is custodian of the County Court House on Wall street, is himself of Italian descent. He urges that the letters also tell the Italians how much "we Italians in this country appreciate the privilege of living under a democratic form of government."

The appeal is in the form of an open letter which will be read in both the English and Italian languages by Alecca on the radio at a date to be announced. The letter follows:

Dear Friends:
As a veteran of World War 2 and of Italian extraction, I feel that it is my sacred duty to address you at this time, especially those of you who are of Italian descent.

You are fully aware of the conditions existing in Italy at the present time and unless we do something about it, our friends and relatives will be forced to live under the yoke of Communism which is threatening Italy and all of Europe today.

Here are a few facts about Communism which we, as a group, should inform the people of Italy about and place them on their guard for the coming election to be held on April 18.

The Communists are a class of people who are anti-Christian. They do not believe in God or church and their main objective is to break down the foundations of our civilization.

Foreign Affairs Leader Asks Money for Europe, China at Once

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Chairman Eaton (R-N.J.) of the House Foreign Affairs committee said today the possibility of a third World War "is not very remote."

Eaton was asking the House rules committee to send to the House floor quickly legislation for $6,205,000,000 worth of economic and military aid to western Europe, China, Greece and Turkey.

A little earlier, the Foreign Affairs committee had formally reported the bill. It said in a report to the House that "the very survival of the United States" is at stake in the present program to stop Communism and help Europe recover economically.

In other foreign aid actions: The Senate Foreign Relations committee recommended $463,000,000 for aid to China for 12 months. Of this, $100,000,000 could be used for military supplies. The administration had asked $570,000,000 economic aid for China for 15 months.

The House Appropriations committee recommended an emergency grant of $55,000,000 to Austria, France and Italy. This would be for use while the European Recovery Program is being set up.

The way the House operates, its rules committee has the job of deciding when a bill is to be considered in the House.

Even before the rules committee session, there was an informal understanding that the big foreign aid bill would come up tomorrow, leaders predicted passage by next week.

Eaton told the rules committee members the world is coming to a crossroads. He said he did not know whether the decision as to which road it will take will be made through armed conflict, made through armed conflict.

Bard Panel to Give Data on Risks and Business Insurance

Session Will Be Conducted Wednesday at K.H.S. Auditorium; Jamison Will Speak

The fourth in the series of the Bard Plan for Small Business panels will be held at Kingston High School Auditorium Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Attendance at the discussions has averaged 500 persons, despite inclement weather conditions at the first two sessions. The series is sponsored by Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson, as a Hudson Valley community service.

The topic for this week's panel will be, How to Reduce Business Risks and Set Up an Economical Business Insurance Program.

Chairman of the meeting will be John H. Steinway, of Steinway and Sons, New York, chairman of the Bard College Board of Trustees. The moderator will be Dr. Donald H. Davenport, deputy commissioner, New York State Department of Commerce. The chief speaker will be Herbert L. Jamison, of the Herbert L. Jamison & Co., New York, Jamison, insurance adviser and lecturer, will be assisted by Peter Kes and Henry A. Spies.

Davenport, a former member of the faculties of Columbia University and of the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard University, is now director of the Division of Economic Development of the State Department of Commerce. During the war he was in Washington as chief economist for the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. At various times he has conducted economic research for such organizations as the Veterans Administration, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Selective Service System and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Jamison, a native New Yorker, is a member of the Insurance Institute of America, and has served in many capacities as adviser and expert on insurance for manufacturing, mercantile and other businesses. Prior to 1936 he was active in the Educational Committee of the Insurance Society of New York in organizing courses on insurance brokerage. He also lectured for four years in connection with those courses. He has given numerous talks on insurance to buyers' groups, such as insurance and financial divisions of the American Management Association, Association of Cost Accountants, Comptrollers' Societies, and has contributed articles to insurance and other trade magazines. Jamison is an honor graduate of several intensive, training courses in insurance.

Loretta Young and Colman Win Top Hollywood Honors

Hollywood, March 22 (AP)—Loretta Young pointed to the Oscar and cried excitedly to newsmen: "To be perfectly honest, I never expected this in my life... I thought Rosalind would get it."

Rosalind Russell was sitting in the 39th row at the Academy Awards—her fingers stuffed into her ears. Not "saying a prayer," she explained afterward, "but feeling one." When she saw Loretta head for the stage she joined nearly 6,000 other spectators in rousing applause.

Miss Young's receipt of the foot-high gold statuette for the best performance by an actress in 1947 was the big upset of the 20th annual ceremonies of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. She won for her spirited portrayal of a Swedish-accented housemaid who rose to be a congresswoman in "The Farmer's Daughter."

Gold Is Named

Popcorn Concessionaire Said to Have Struck, Knifed Woman

A search by state and New York city police was still in progress today for Murray Gold, 33, operator of a New York popcorn concession, who is charged with stabbing a Kingston woman in a Marlborough tavern early Sunday morning.

The woman, Mary Ann Dunham, 35, is at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, for treatment of five stab wounds in the back, the state police said, but was not reported in serious condition. It is thought possible, however, the report said, that one of the wounds may be of sufficient depth to affect a lung.

The stabbing, an apparent climax of a lover's quarrel, the police reported, happened with a violent suddenness at about 2 a. m., as the woman, who had been with Gold in Newburgh earlier, sat with another companion in the tavern.

Struck, Stabbed Woman
Gold entered the place, the police said, struck the woman on the head with an ash tray, and stabbed her five times, apparently with a penknife and fled the place.

State police on both sides of the river were alerted in the search for the New York man and bloodhounds from a sub-station in the Beacon area were put on the trail. New York police were also notified and it is believed that Gold may now be somewhere in the metropolitan area.

The search, the police believe, closed in on Gold at Beacon after a telephone call to St. Luke's Hospital was traced to that place. Later information indicated that the call had been placed by Gold and reports indicated that he was almost trapped on a train.

Took to Woods
The police appeared convinced that he was on a morning train at Beacon and that he jumped from a car and took to the woods as a search of the train was started. Other reports indicated that he might have changed his clothes at some point between Marlborough and Beacon, for the purpose of hampering identification.

Information obtained by the police indicated that Gold and the girl had been together Saturday night in Newburgh and that they parted after a quarrel. The girl, the report said, left Newburgh with another companion and Gold followed in a taxi.

Gold, the police reported, operates a popcorn concession in a New York theatre.

Ferry Service Date To Be Given Soon

Although it is expected that the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry service will resume in a short time, Executive Director William K. Hagginbotham of the New York State Bridge Authority said today that it will be impossible to set the date for the first run until after the boat goes into dry dock.

The ferry boat George Clinton, is expected to be placed in the Millburn Dry Dock Company dock about the middle of this week, Hagginbotham said. At that time an inspection will be made by U. S. Coast Guard officials, and it will be determined what work will be necessary. "We hope all that will have to be done will be the painting of the hull," Hagginbotham said.

Wiswall Hearing To Be Held in City

Catskill, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—A proceeding aimed at ousting Frank Wiswall from his district directorship in the United States Trotting Association was deferred today until March 30.

Next week's hearings will be in the chambers of Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth at Kingston.

Attorneys for both sides announced they had agreed to the delay so that the USTA could be named a party to the proceeding.

A group supporting Edgar J. Baker of Lake George, who lost narrowly to Wiswall in a district election last month, seeks to have the election voided. The petitioners claim "invalid" proxy votes were counted.

Wiswall, president of the Saratoga Raceway Association, has served as director in this district, comprising New York, since the USTA was founded. He was first president. His home is in Loudonville.

The fire was extinguished with chemicals.

New York, March 22 (AP)—Individual stocks kept the fast recovery swing going in today's market despite considerable profit cashing interference.

Dealings tapered for a while after the heaviest first hour volume of the past year. The aggregate for this period was 720,000 shares. The ticker tape fell as much as 3 minutes behind for the first time since last May as blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands.

Early advances running to a point or more were reduced in most cases before midday and many minus signs eventuated. Quotations again hardened near the fourth hour.

Bullish sentiment still is based mainly on the outlook for big defense spending, quick enactment of the European relief program and brightening chances of tax reduction. Numerous skeptics, however, inclined to hold aloof pending more light on international affairs and domestic legislation.

Among favored issues were Union Pacific, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Electric, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Johnson & Johnson, Eastman Kodak and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Intense interest laggards includes U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Anacosta, International Paper, Texas Co., Standard Oil (N.J.), Mission Corp., N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific and Illinois Central. Steels, motors, oils and rails were narrow.

Bonds improved. Commodities rallied after early hesitancy.

Local Yards Await Season's First Tows

Local shipbuilding and towing companies contacted today reported that they have received no definite notice as to when the first tows will come up the river, but expect they will begin "very soon."

Ray Hiltbrand of the Hiltbrand Dry Dock Company said today his firm has received no notice of the date for the first tow to that place, and that they are not sure just how much work will come up. He said he expects the company will do the usual type of repair work, but knows of no large orders.

At the Cornell Steamboat Company office, it was also stated that it was not known when the first towing will be started, but is expected soon.

U. S. Scrip Is Changed

Frankfurt, Germany, March 22 (AP)—As a new bar in blackmarkting, United States military scrip in Germany was changed today. It was the second revision in this currency, the only legal tender for Americans here. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U. S. military governor, said: "We realized that with the present unsettled economic conditions in most parts of the world, there is a desire on the part of many individuals not entitled to the use of military certificates (scrip) to obtain them illegally and hoard them under the mistaken impression the United States will eventually redeem them in dollars."

New Strategy Planned

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Michigan Republican leaders were reported today to have hit upon new strategy for keeping the name of Senator Arthur Vandenberg before the Republican National Convention. This plan—unless it is upset by the state's April 2 G.O.P. convention—calls for skipping a formal nomination but holding Michigan's 41 votes lined up behind the lawmaker. The idea would be to wait for a break in the lineup of announced candidates.

Ships Are Damaged

New York, March 22 (AP)—An oil tanker and an oil barge collided head-on in heavy fog in the East river off 90th street at 3 a. m. (E.S.T.) today and the bows of both vessels were damaged considerably. No injuries were reported, and both vessels, the tanker Paul Dana and Barge Jensen No. 1, docked without assistance at Astoria on the Queens side of the river after the crash. The tanker had been south-bound, and the barge was being towed upstream.

Says Controls Will Die

Washington, March 22 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) said today he believes federal rent controls will die next week unless the House abandons its home rule provision. But he coupled this statement with a prediction that Senate and House conferees will reach an agreement. Thus Tobey implied he expects the House to give way.

EASTER

Sunrise and Easter
Are symbols of hope
Lighting the darkness
Where nature must grope.
Sunrise and Easter
Mean life that is new
Leading us through
To carry us through.

Faith in the Father
Whose blessings we hold
Gives us at Easter
Portions of gold.
Hope for the future
In spite of our cares
Blooms in luxury
At Easter affairs.

Sunrise and Easter
Invite us to sing
Of Christ, the Redeemer
Our Saviour... and King.

How To Make Money

Six months ago a pastor in Elkhart, Ind., conceived a novel idea of raising money for a building fund. He felt there were too many church bazaars and other social events, so he borrowed $500 from a bank and divided the money among 50 parishioners. He told them to invest in a profitable business enterprise and bring back the profits in six months. And they made good. In various ways, such as opening home bakeries, cultivating baby chicks, and in many other ways, they have reaped good profits.

The parishioners think the idea is good they want to start all over again.

Owing to the increased cost of living even burglars must have more money it seems: at any rate bank robberies yield really big loot nowadays.

Thomas: "So you call yourself a vegetarian, and here you are eating a beefsteak and onions."

Miles: "Yes, you may call this a beefsteak, but I call it forbidden fruit."

An exchange reports the case of a farmer selling a machine for only twice as much as he paid for it 11 years ago. This is most deplorable; he could have got three times as much, as he paid for it 11 years ago. This is most deplorable; he could have got three times as much, but someone is always victimizing the farmer.

This Fellow's Back Again

There was a little moron who lived in a trunk. And no one could dissuade him. He thought it was the bunk.

The problem in marriage is not to find the right person, but to be the right person.

Professor: "What is the outstanding contribution that chemistry has given to the world?"

Student: "Blondes."

We read where a woman had an X-ray taken of her jaw and it turned out to be a moving picture.

His client made no reply, so the lawyer continued: "You can't help winning, and I shall be very pleased to assist you."

Client: "Thanks!" Grabbing up his hat and making for the door.

Lawyer: "Where are you going?"

Client: "I'm going to try to settle this case out of court."

Lawyer: "But why waste money? I've told you it's the best case I've ever heard of."

Client: "Maybe, but not for me. I've told you the other fellow's story."

Nothing is more precious than time. The efficient man never puts things off. Delay is responsible for too many of our failures.

Pete: "What's the cat's name?"

Ruth: "Ben Hur."

Pete: "How'd you happen to call him that?"

Ruth: "We called him Ben till he had kittens."

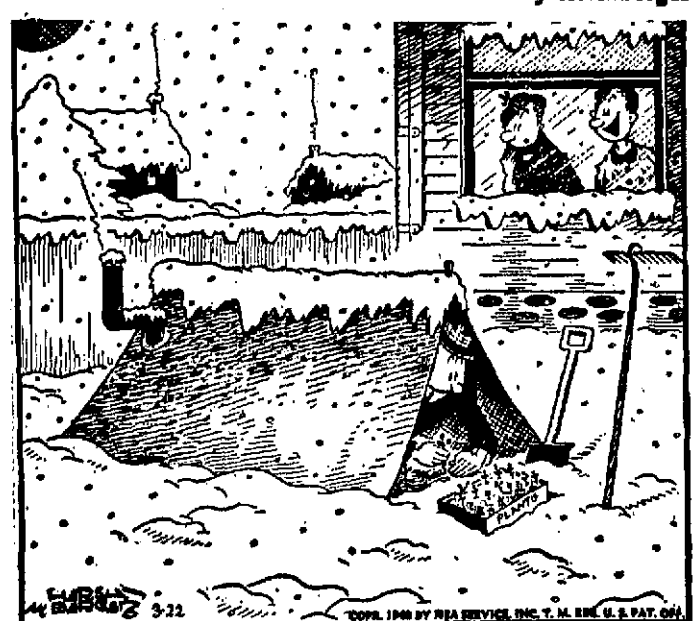

The reason "the good old days" seem happier times than the present is that we see them through the roseate haze of a twilight memory.

Hal: "Tell me, Jack, did you marry me for my money or for my other sake?"

Sue: "For my own sake."

WRITING PAPER SHOULD FIT HANDWRITING

A reader tells me: "I have been advised that only very small note paper is correct for acknowledging formal invitations. For the life of me I can't make my handwriting fit on this sheet. Does the wording of a formal answer to a wedding breakfast, for example, have to be written exactly as the sample given in your book? I can't get the longest one of the lines on the paper."

Correctly, as well as sensibly, buy note paper that fits your handwriting. Nothing is more important to the beauty of a handwritten page than having note paper which is becoming to your handwriting. In other words, if your handwriting is spread out widely you should use a wide paper, but if your writing is tall and narrow, you should use long, narrow paper. As a matter of fact, very small note paper is obviously unsuitable for any but small handwriting.

A Tipping Question

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please explain under what circumstances a head waiter or captain of waiters should be tipped? What normal amount should a tip be, under the following circumstances: In a fairly expensive restaurant, if he takes your order and, when the waiter brings the main course, the head waiter serves it and mixes the salad? Then later he takes the dessert order, which he may or may not serve himself. In this situation, the waiter did very little. To whom should the approximate 15 per cent be given? Or how divided?

Answer: The head waiter (or one of his captains) always takes the order and, on occasion, serves certain dishes such as a chicken to be carved or a sauce or salad dressing to be made. In this case, an appreciative patron gives him a tip. This is in addition to the waiter's regular tip, which should not be reduced, whether or not a tip is given the captain. In a great restaurant where tables are hard to get (and a choice one is received), a tip to the head waiter is not out of order.

Husband Should Be Courteous

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a husband tip his hat when meeting his wife on the street?

Answer: Of course he should.

Do you know what to wear at a daytime or evening wedding reception? Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-6, may help you to decide. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 98, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Patrons Asked To Make Returns For Easter Ball

The ticket committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Benedictine Hospital asks all patrons who have not made returns for the tickets for the Easter Monday Ball to do so at their earliest convenience. Checks for tickets may be mailed to Miss Anne Campbell, treasurer of the ball committee, 45 Lafayette avenue.

This is the only public appeal made to the citizens of Kingston and Ulster county for the benefit of the Benedictine Hospital during the year. The money netted from the patrons and general admission tickets is used solely for the charity work of the hospital.

No one, regardless of race, creed, or color, is ever refused admission to the Benedictine Hospital and while the hospital is filled to capacity at times, room is always found for one more, according to the committee.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATS MONT PLEASANT, 53 TO 49

Albany, Scheffel Stars In Overtime Victory

Convention Hall, Saratoga Springs, March 20—This was no place for weak hearts and timid souls tonight as more than 3,000 frenzied spectators watched Kingston High's undefeated basketball team turn back Mont Pleasant of Schenectady, 53-49, in an overtime inter-sectional schoolboy classic that certainly will rank with the all-time scholastic thrillers ever played on this spacious court.

Out of the stark drama that climaxed Kingston's 36th consecutive victory over a two year span emerged two heroes who will be toasted and remembered as long as basketball is played at K.H.S.—Joe Albany and Ronnie Scheffel.

It was a team accomplishment in a tense, swift changing battle, to be sure, but the individual heroics of Albany and Scheffel sent the Kingston rooters—nearly one thousand of them—into hysterics and pandemonium.

Scheffel Scores Two

Scheffel, a sub for Ken Lowe, fired the two winning baskets in the overtime, one of them coming on the long end of a typical Albany pass. Albany drilled the cords for 17 points and his ball handling, fire and spirit kept the team intact over several rough spots.

The regulation contest ended 47-47 after the clubs were deadlocked seven times and Kingston had blown a 7-point half time lead. It took a spectacular one-hand turn around shot by Big Ed Weaver to stage off defeat in the last 15 seconds of play.

Kingston was bigger and more experienced than Mont Pleasant and forced the Red Raiders into excessive fouling that decided the issue. The Maroon was outscored from the field 22-19 but 15 foul conversions in 30 attempts turned the tide.

A Tense Finish

The turbulent fourth quarter and three-minute overtime rode like a Hollywood scenario and Ronnie Scheffel was strictly the leading man.

Deadlocked at 35-35 with 5 1/2 minutes remaining the two sectional titans started the maddening stretch drive. The cheering was maddening when Aulicino, a slick little forward, went under for a basket and 37-35 Mont Pleasant. Weaver, with the sunn of an executioner converted two fouls and it was 37-37. Brownley's pop shot preceded a foul by Weaver and the Red Raider center added a singleton for 40-38.

Little Joe came into the picture with two foul shots for the Maroon and it was 40-40, the fifth deadlock of the game. From there on out it went something like this: 3 minutes—Girardi a pop shot 42-40. Mont Pleasant.

2 1/2—Suprunowicz converts a foul and Mont Pleasant leads 43-41.

1:30—Bob Ghear drills a shot from the keyhole to tie it again 43-43. A technical is called on Girardi but Rienzo misses it.

50 seconds—Rienzo scores from the corner on a beautiful one hander.

25 seconds—Aulicino goes under for a layup and 10 seconds later Big Ed Weaver connects with a typical twisting turn around shot that had been missing all night. It was 47-47 with 10 seconds to go.

Mont Pleasant got possession, a long desperation pass followed downcourt and out of bounds. In the mad scramble Bob Ghear, Kingston guard, was knocked out cold and lay on the floor several minutes before he revived. He was able to play in the overtime.

Tops In Overtime

Kingston dominated the overtime. Albany started the club on the victory road with a one-hander but Manikas retaliated for Mont Pleasant. With 1 minute 15 seconds remaining Scheffel stole the ball from a Red Raider, passed it off to Albany and then veered for the coffin corner where Joe's pass came winging down. Ronnie laid it up with 47 seconds to go. The Maroon regained possession and tried to "freeze" the rest of the way but lost the ball. Mont Pleasant was cracking under the strain. The Klansmen had possession but waived a foul in order to hold the ball. With 15 seconds to go the focus set upon a play from a "freezing" operation. Scheffel faded under and flipped in his second basket.

That was the ball game. A few seconds later the final buzzer sounded and players and spectators descended upon Albany and Scheffel for an unforgettable demonstration of back slapping, cheering, mauling, pushing in which emotions went completely haywire. But this was the big one and if they were enthusiastic they really had something to cheer about.

Olympic Basketball Trials Set Without St. Louis Five

New York, March 22 (AP)—Eight of the country's blue-ribbon non-professional basketball squads will assemble here Saturday for the Olympic trials, but Long Ed Macauley and his St. Louis sharpshooters will be missing from the firing line.

The Billikens, who won the recent National Invitation, were withdrawn from the fast Madison Square Garden field last night by the university's athletic board, which decided the boys should stay home and study.

New York University, runnerup to St. Louis in the invitation, figures to get the vacated spot although there's some talk the berth may go to the winner of Thursday night's East-West All-Star game.

The Olympic basketball committee will meet tomorrow to decide Louis Wilke, chairman, previously announced N.Y.U. would get the bid if St. Louis refused.

The rest of the field—to be made up of four independent teams and four college combines—is set.

Oilers Set Again

Carrying the independent banner will be the Bartlesville (Okla.) Oilers, National A.A.U. champions, Denver's Nuggets and Oakland's Biffners, the 2-3 teams in the A.A.U. tourney, and Brooklyn's Prospect Park Y.M.C.A. winner of the National Y.M.C.A. crown.

The college group will be composed of Kentucky, the eastern N.C.A.A. champion; Baylor, winner of the western N.C.A.A. play-off; Louisville, N.A.I.B. titlist, and N.Y.U., if chosen to fill St. Louis' position.

The draw hasn't been made but Olympic plans call for the independents to have it out in one bracket and the college boys in the other with the victors clashing in the final.

Then the Olympic team of 14 men—half independent and half collegiate—will be chosen.

The first games will be staged in the Garden Saturday, March 27, with subsequent ones March 29 and March 31.

Brooklyn's Prospect "Y" completed the independent bracket by defeating Hoboken, 59-45, in the National Y.M.C.A. finals at Brooklyn.

Saratoga Hasn't

eyed, cool and calculating, a substitute only because he didn't start but the designation ended there. He was varsity tonight all the way.

Good in Clutches

But the heroes of other nights and this long 36-game winning streak weren't forgotten in the buzz and back slapping. Big Ed Weaver, weakened by a siege of illness, didn't have his usual fire but most of his points came in crucial spots. There was Mike Rizzo whose ball handling and dribbling was a thing of beauty. Mont Pleasant observers said he was the stickest player on the court. And Ken Lowe who was one of the Big Five.

Big Bob Gheer will never remember the roaring climax of the basketball contest. He stated somebody's elbow with his stomach at that last mad rush staged by Mont Pleasant and wound up knocked out colder than the proverbial mackerel. But he is a game youngster and five minutes later was ready to resume play in the overtime.

Did It Convincingly

Coach G. Warren Kins saw his brilliant coaching career achieve new heights. He had just seen the ball club he moulded for three years win its 36th consecutive game. Earlier they had won their 14th DUSO pennant and third Section 9 title. Tonight they beat a club that through the years has been invincible and 12 times had topped Section 2 honors. They did it convincingly by completely dominating the overtime period, when everything else was past and the pressure was at white heat. And this was Mont Pleasant, reigning under the pressure, fabulous winners of 305 games out of their last 347 and 53 out of their last 55.

Weaver, Albany Did It

Kings fans will never forget Big Ed Weaver, poleaxed at the foul line in a death like stillness, calmly sinking two fouls for a 37-37 deadlock. A while later Joe Albany stood at that same foul line and swished another pair through without touching the rim. This was clutch shooting that tugged at your heart. Had these shots failed there would have been a celebration tonight—for Mont Pleasant.

The K.I.S. official family was present. Superintendent Arthur Laidlaw, Principal Clarence L. Edmunds, members of the faculty. But nobody could possibly have been any happier than Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scheffel, two religious K.I.S. followers, as they watched their brilliant youngster clutch the ball game with two shots that made K.I.S. basketball history. Certainly it will be one of the treasured moments of a father and of a clean-cut, typical American boy who had it when the stakes were highest.

Not From Common Clay

Was this the greatest basketball team in the long Kins dynasty? It's hard to say without getting arguments from supporters of other great squads. But this team went farther than any other predecessors and set the all-time winning streak record. If there has been greater squires than surely it isn't moulded from the clay of common man.

Ohio Switchman Tops

ABC Singles With 709

Detroit, March 22 (AP)—The insecurity of leaders in the American Bowling Congress tournament was evident today after a week-end of shufflings on the big boards.

Willis Griggs of Trenton, N. J., rolling a final game of 1023, pushed into third place in the team event with 2943 last night.

Beforehand, both the doubles and singles experienced major changes.

Dr. Michael Krups, Chicago dentist, and his brother, Bruno, a pharmacist, took the doubles lead with 1288.

The Tourney's first singles 709 now also graces the board—a 709 contribution from Nick Miller, Massillon, Ohio, railroad switchman, which gave him the solo division lead.

Two other doubles combinations rolled into the first five. Nick Lence and Tony Mack of Newburgh, N. Y., posted 1251 for second place. Lence and Eddie Ingels of Watervliet, N. Y., rang up 1233 for fourth.

Inter-City Gloves

Tourney in New York

New York, March 22 (AP)—Thirty-two crack amateur ringmen—champions and near champions of the eastern and western golden glove tournaments—tangle tonight at the Madison Square Garden in the annual inter-city series.

Eight of the bouts involve winners of the Chicago and New York final eliminations while eight others will pit handicapped alternate warriors who came close.

The 16-bout card is expected to draw a capacity crowd of more than 18,000.

The Chicago team, which draws its talents from a broad area both east and west of the Mississippi river, is expected to extend its long-time dominance. The westerners have won 12 of the previous meetings, lost five and tied three.

Patty Berg Wins
Augusta, Ga., March 22 (AP)—The annual Augusta Women's Titleholders Golf Tournament was won for the fourth time yesterday by Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Minn.

The stocky professional star fired a one-over-par 78 final round to give her a 308 total score for the 72 holes.

Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, Colo., tied with Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, for second place. Their scores were 209. Grace Leneyk of Newton, Conn., was eighth with 320.

'Dawkins'

Dawkins Favorites meet the Kingston Legionnaires tonight at the municipal auditorium at 9 o'clock in what is expected to be one of the stand-out basketball attractions of the fading season.

In case you don't remember, the "Dawkins Favorites" lineup includes Ken Lowe, Mike Rizzo, Ed Weaver, Joe Albany and Bob Gheer. Ever hear of those fellows?

Brooks-Schilling

Duel Set Tonight

Dave Brooks meets Frank Schilling in the city pocket billiard attraction at the Kaschil Parlor at 7:30 tonight. Brooks is undefeated with five straight wins.

Floods Are Big Threat

Chicago, March 22 (AP)—Floods and threats of floods harassed many towns and rural lowland dwellers in the Midwest and East today. Drenching rains pouring into streams already swollen by melting snow and ice caused overflows in Iowa, Pennsylvania, Vermont and New York. An emergency crew recruited in Quincy, Ill., was sandbagging levees in an effort to prevent the Mississippi from overflowing 8,000 acres of rich wheatland.

of freedom given to man by Almighty God. Do we want the people of Italy to suffer the same fate as Czechoslovakia? Do we want them to live as slaves under the Red Flag of Russia?

Friends, here is what we should do about it. Write to our friends and relatives in Italy and tell them what we know of Communism. Let them know that we Italians in this country appreciate the privilege of living under a democratic form of government where we can exercise our God-given rights as a free people. Tell the people of Italy that if the Communists win at the coming election, Italy will be a slave state.

Friends, in closing, I appeal to you in behalf of the people of Italy. Sit down and write a letter at once, as time is limited. Advise them in your own words what I have just tried to convey to you. Send this letter by air mail so that they can receive their warning on time. Remember, the Red agents work fast, so let us beat them to the punch. Let us tell the people of Italy the truth. Show them that we as Italian-Americans are interested in the future of Italy, the country of our ancestors.

Thank you,

ANTHONY ALECCA.

Dog Gets Credit

New York, March 22 (AP)—A barking dog credited with saving the lives of three New York city youths who went for a ride in a leaky canoe on a canal in Queens. Anthony Millan, 11, Charles Groll, 15, and Samuel Amicena, 14, said last night they came across the dog when they were in the canoe. The dog was barking and they were filling rapidly. Each removed a shoe, bailed frantically and cried for help. The barking of "Butch," a police dog, awakened its owner, Gustave Simon, who heard the cries for help.

Search for Corey, 43, Centers in New York

Hartford, Conn., March 22 (AP)—Police centered their search for John Corey, 43, in New York state today following the recovery of the automobile in which his wife was slain.

Col. Edward J. Hickey, state police commissioner, announced that "the murder car" had been located yesterday in White Plains, N. Y. Corey, an ex-convict for whom a "wanted for murder" alarm has been broadcast, has not been found, but the hunt is continuing, especially in New York state, the commissioner said.

Corey's wife, Louise, 38, mother of five children, was found unconscious late Friday night on a lonely road in East Canaan. She died a few hours later of bullet wounds in the head.

Col. Hickey said that Corey, released from state prison within the past two weeks, had gone to Danbury where his wife had been living recently. He lived apart from his wife, the commissioner said, but last Friday called at her home and asked her and her daughter, Sharon, two and a half years old, for an automobile ride.

The child, born while Corey was serving a prison term imposed in 1935, was found unharmed in Torrington, abandoned in a parked car there.

Hickey said that Corey apparently had fled to White Plains after shooting his wife and dumping her body out on the lonely road.

"White Plains police located the murder car on a street near the railroad station and turned the car over to Connecticut State police," the commissioner reported last night.

"Preliminary investigation indicates that the front seat has a quantity of bloodstains. A bullet hole was found on the inside right hand side of the car between the front and rear doors."

"The car had been parked on the street in White Plains since early Saturday morning."

MacArthur Can Save China

America swings toward the Pacific.

You could see as long ago as 1942 that China probably would be the decisive ally in the next war.

Col. Edward J. Hickey, state police commissioner, announced that "the murder car" had been located yesterday in White Plains, N. Y. Corey, an ex-convict for whom a "wanted for murder" alarm has been broadcast, has not been found, but the hunt is continuing, especially in New York state, the commissioner said.

"The discovery of our perilous situation strikes him with such suddenness that he jumps clear over the Universal Military Training blueprint and lands on a description program.

Thanks to such men as Jimmy Byrnes, there is not much left for us to do, but start preparing again.

When the war ended we dropped billions of dollars worth of equipment like children throwing down their toys to rust on the playground. Now we have to start the factories running again. We have to feed them with billions of dollars worth of contracts for planes and guns and ammunition.

Now that we contemplate Russia's armies, trained and potential, of upwards of 25,000,000 men, we realize—or let us hope we realize—that we are a minority country.

We are a nation of only 144,000,000. Where will we find the men to stand off the hordes of the U. S. S. R. (hordes whom we would like to help deliver from their dictators, but whom we will have to fight, nevertheless)?

There is only one answer: China.

Truman and Marshall grudgingly agree to lend or give China a few hundred million dollars, but still refuse to send more than a trickle of arms. When the final showdown comes, will Chiang play ball with Truman and Marshall?

Can he be expected ever to place his confidence in such men? The situation calls for a leader who can understand the world's predicament and who will save China.

We are extremely fortunate in this crisis that we have in our camp the greatest military genius of history, and that he likewise is the outstanding political leader of the Far East.

The one man who can be depended on to rally both the Far East and Europe in a war which will be truly global, is Douglas MacArthur.

Sets October Date

London, March 22 (AP)—The People, a widely circulated Sunday newspaper, said Princess Elizabeth is expected to become a mother in October. It was the first such definite prediction by a British newspaper. It drew the same official "no comment" from Buckingham Palace as similar predictions previously published abroad. The People said an official announcement canceling the Princess' public engagements may be expected at any time in the next few weeks. "This," it added, "will be necessary in expectation of the princess becoming a mother in October."

4,200 Printers Told to Stop Work in Protest Over Rules

New York, March 22 (AP)—Approximately 4,200 A.F.L. printers in 247 of the city's commercial printing plants have been ordered to stop work today in protest against an increase in their hours and other new work rules posted by the employers.

Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical Union (A.F.L.) said yesterday the new rules constituted a lockout against members of Local 6.

Don Taylor, executive vice-president of the New York Employing Printers Association, announced that the commercial printers have been advised to keep the new rules posted and to abide by their terms.

"This probably means," he said, "that a substantial proportion, if not all, of the 4,200 members of Typographical Union 6 will not work."

The bulk of the employers affected are book, magazine and job shop printers.

Members of Local 6 were ordered at a meeting yesterday to consider themselves "locked out" and to report for picket duty.

Another negotiating session was called for today by Theodore W. Kheel, director of the city's Labor Relations Division.

Local 6 members previously had voted the lockout, and the vote was upheld yesterday by the I. T. U. Executive Council. A contract between the I. T. U. and the commercial printers expired December 31, and the printers continued working during negotiations.

The city's 14 daily newspapers, which are negotiating with the I. T. U., are not affected by the commercial printers' action.

The union members voted at yesterday's meeting that negotiations with the newspapers be continued until the contract, expiration date, March 31.

They also voted that if no agreement is reached by that time, the I. T. U. Executive Council will be notified that a deadlock exists. A spokesman said such action would permit the council to enter the negotiations, now being handled for the union by the wage scale committee of Local 6.

Stereotypers Get Raise

New York, March 22 (AP)—Four hundred and fifty union stereotypers employed by 15 New York newspapers ratified yesterday a new contract providing a weekly pay increase of $15.30.

The boost, retroactive to February 20, brings the average stereotypers' pay to $84.50 a week.

Under terms of the two-year contract, wage talks may be reopened in one year.

The agreement is between Local 1 of the A.F.L. Stereotypers Union and Newspaper Publishers Association of New York City. It was reached with the help of a federal mediator.

The closed shop, banned by the Taft-Hartley Law, is replaced by a union shop in the contract. A number of other working conditions also are included.

Draft Board Members Status Is Requested

Albany, N. Y., March 22 (AP)—Members of New York's World War Two Selective Service Boards have been asked if they would be willing to serve on draft boards again.

Col. William H. Boughton, director of the state's office of Selective Service, said Saturday the information was requested "for planning purposes," he added.

"We want to be ready if and when draft machinery is needed," he said.

He said letters and questionnaires had been mailed to all former board members and chairmen throughout the state.

Boughton stressed in his letters that the poll, which he described as "informal," did not mean a Selective Service system would be established.

Foreign Minister Reinhold Svento, Interior Minister Yrjo Leino, Chairman Olli-Pekonen of the Finnish Foreign Relations Committee and Dr. Urho Kekkonen, Agrarian party member.

Engineer Is Recovering

Mansfield, Mass., March 22 (AP)—A 47-year-old electrical engineer was recovering today from a bullet wound, which, Police Chief George Henderson said, was inflicted by his wife before she shot and wounded herself with a .32 calibre revolver. The police chief reported that William E. Smith, an electrical engineer with the Sperry Gyroscope Company's Boston office, was shot in the neck by his wife, Alice, 42, who then fired a bullet through her breast.

Henderson said Smith told him that his wife shot four times at him through a bathroom door after a brief family argument before she turned the gun on herself.

Crews Begin Work On Water System; Testings Continue

Woodstock, March 22—Harold Lapo, well driller and contractor, who is drilling the water system for Woodstock had two crews working day and night beginning Saturday at noon and working until 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

During that time they pumped 300,000 gallons of water at the depth of 30 feet from the surface. Engineer Holroyd was on the job taking samples of the water and checking the log every half hour. The men used a plunger type pump.

They commenced operations again this morning with a rotary pump and expect this pump to give them between 250 and 500 gallons per minute.

The water they have taken out with the plunger pump has been slightly discolored but cleared in a short time. They believe that this well at 30 feet will be satisfactory. There is a good gravel bed which is important.

Engineers Keis and Holroyd will be in Woodstock Tuesday to continue testing. They expect to have capacity working within a day or two.
